TO: O. B. Evenson

Stanley Meenach's January 21 report on the Cleveland membership situation has again come to me for interpretation.

The current question concerns Robert Thornbladh. The poor judgement Mr. Thornbladh used in preparing to go into business while still on the local council payroll is accepted. But there is question as to whether he really was involved in the acts of dishonesty that are generally reflected in this report.

The report implies that the three units in question were handled by Robert Weniger who was assigned to Thornbladh's district as an assistant. Thornbladh resigned on May 15. Weniger was dismissed on September 15. Is it possible that Weniger's dishonest acts were committed in the period after Thornbladh left and that this should not be charged against him?

Some men in other regions who know Bob Thornbladh think very highly of him and cannot believe that he would be a party to such procedures.

In fairness to him it seems that we need to clarify his relationships to the several points that Stan Meenach enumerated in his report.

Thanks very much.

SUBJECT: Cleveland Membership Situation

I had conversations with John Shanks and Robert Untch about the situation that developed, or became known in 1964 concerning phantom units and boys in the Greater Cleveland Council. Here are the facts as I have been able to winnow them out.

Two districts were involved - District 7 which was served by Theobald Weber and District 11 which was served by Robert Thornbladh and later by Robert L. Weiniger. Here are the factors that seemed to contribute to the situation:

1. There seemed to have been some outright dishonesty in charters with no one actually being members of the unit. Men were registered in multiple capacities without their knowledge but the boys were totally fictitious. However, not over three charters have been located where this was a fact. This occurred in District 11.
2. Project workers in the inner-city project, to make a record, came in with large numbers of duplications. Two workers particularly were involved, with one project worker actually registered in nine capacities in District 11.
3. There was outright padding of membership rolls in the round-up program.
4. There was evidence of generally sloppy and irresponsible reregistering in the matter of use of duplicate registrations of adults.
5. The civil rights problem seemed to have been a contributing factor, with units started and registered in apparent good faith and then abandoned because of unrest and problems.
6. There were normal units that just went out of business.

I feel there is a 7th factor that is very difficult to measure, but I believe the exposure of the above meant that the balance of the staff became ultra-conservative and cautious so that there would be no question as to their units - by that I mean that they would not accept the charters that normally they might have accepted without a thorough check on boys and men. This would not be normal procedure, but after the above exposures, this became a fact and slowed down organization of new units and probably discouraged some. It also made for poor relationships where the district executive re-checked on people after they had filed an application.

I believe also that the Director of Field Service and the Field Directors were not sufficiently aware of what was going on in their districts to the degree that they should.

Weber and Thornbladh resigned, May 15, 1964 to go into a candy business. Subsequently it was discovered that they had been in process of setting up this business on Boy Scout time for a few months while working for the council. Their operation in general was pretty sloppy and we would not recommend their return to the profession.

TSBSA012010

DYKES_I_013124

Weiniger came on in March 1964 as an Assistant to Thornbladh and was fired on September 15. This man was a real pusher and was out to make a reputation and constantly tried to make an impression. He is the man who had the totally fictitious units and I understand has been placed on the confidential list.

In watching for the above sort of thing, it seems to me that multiple registration of leaders would be a suspicious item to watch for and a large number of additional enrollments brought into a small unit at one time would be suspect. Investigation of three units all with the same sponsor, showed that while they had registered with five boys, additional enrollments came in with in excess of 20 boys for each unit, all about the same time.

I do not believe that this could happen again in Cleveland. There is a new Director of Field Service in the person of Robert Untch who knows exactly what is going on and Scout Executive John Shanks is determined that nothing like this will ever happen again in his council. John and I agreed that the Scout executive and the field directors should look at rosters once in a while to make sure that they know what is coming in. One of the things the field directors need to do is keep in close contact with their men and not be naive about what men will or will not do and not let any man think that a record is more important than his own integrity.

All in all, there were probably 300 shadow registrations without foundation and perhaps as many as 600 boys that could have been questioned.

I feel sure that everything is currently sound and will continue to be so.

Dear Donald:

After careful review, we have decided that your registration with the Boy Scouts of America should be revoked (denied). We are, therefore, compelled to request that you sever any relations that you may have with the Boy Scouts of America. A refund of your registration is enclosed.

You should understand that BSA membership registration is a privilege and is not automatically granted to everyone who applies. We reserve the right to suspend registration whenever there is concern that an individual may not meet the high standards of membership which the BSA seeks.

If you wish to have this decision reviewed by a BSA regional review committee, please write to the regional director within 60 days of the date of this letter, explaining your version of the facts support your claim that your registration as a BSA member should be reinstated. The procedures for a review of this decision are attached.

Sincerely yours,

Thomas R. Deimler

The following information is provided should you desire a review by the Southern Region, BSA, of the decision to suspend your registration.

1. Within 60 days you must request, in writing, a review of this decision. Your request should be sent to the regional director, Southern Region, BSA, Post Office Box 440728, Kennesaw, Georgia 30144. In your request, you must include your version of what occurred in support of your claim that registration should not be suspended.
2. Upon the receipt of your written request, a committee will be appointed to review the situation.
3. If the regional review committee determines that a review hearing is necessary, the committee will advise you whether or not you may attend. In some instances, no useful purpose would be served by having the applicant present. The hearing is not adversarial in nature and neither the committee nor you, if you attend, will be represented by legal counsel. If you wish, in the event you attend, you may be accompanied by no more than two other individuals if their testimony might assist the committee in discovering the truth and arriving at an accurate finding.
4. The committee will review the facts as presented, and may interview any persons whose testimony might assist them in arriving at a reasonable course of action.
5. You will receive a letter setting forth the findings of the committee.
6. If you are dissatisfied with the results of a regional review, you may request a further review by the National Council. The decision of the National Council will be final.

The following is a documentation of events regarding Donald W. Wertman.

In September of 1994 it was brought to the attention of [REDACTED] Scoutmaster Troop 412, that Mr. Wertman had mentioned to [REDACTED] Assistant Scoutmaster Troop 412, that he had served 10 years in prison for attempted murder. Mr. [REDACTED] brought this to my attention and I began to investigate this report.

In early October 1994 I met with a source at the Citrus County Sheriff's Department. During the conversation I mentioned this event and a date of birth was needed in order to run a criminal background check.

On October 16, 1994 I was able to speak with the source again and provide a date of birth. I received a call that evening and was given a preliminary report. Mr. Wertman had served ten years in prison on sodomy charges in Pennsylvania and a finger print match had been confirmed.

Mr. Wertman currently holds the position of Assistant District Commissioner as well as Committee Chairman for Troop 302 in Inverness. There has currently been no complaint or charges filed during his tenure in Citrus County.
